Ever wonder why five comes after four but not fiveteen after fourteen ?

The brand name Fiveteen is from the Latin XV (quin decim) which directly translates to fiveteen.

Tired of following the norm? We are too. Here at Fiveteen, we're designing products that don't just look good, but also provoke feelings and sensations past just the visual.

At Fiveteen we believe in well-designed items and good quality products.

Our items are designed with the consumers in mind, our designs are made to relate with everyday lifestyle, people and events.

Personal Statement:

I am Feyi, the founder and Designer at Fiveteen Studios. Born and raised in Nigeria, my passion for design started growing up.

Later this led me to study architecture design, and then on to pursue a career in a number of different architecture companies.

My design philosophy is mostly based on simplicity and an appreciation / admiration to my surroundings. I incorporate many natural elements into my design and I'm always inspired by the environment around me.

Although I majored in building design, I see myself more as a designer than an architect. This opens up the mind to lots of opportunities, and well, the possibilities are endless.

I incorporate art, architecture and lifestyle into my clothing designs and I welcome you to follow me on this journey.

Personal Statement:

My name is Bash, product manager at Fiveteen Studios. I was born in Nigeria and moved to South East Asia at 18.

I have had a strong passion for business and enterprise from a young age. I have had years of experience in the procurement and logistics industry and worked as a project support coordinator for Shangsat Nigeria limited for about 4 years.

I decided to go back to school to study business management in Canada. This led to discover product design and product management.

The journey so far has been fulfilling. I incorporate design thinking in my approach to create and innovate products.

My inspiration mostly comes from flashbacks from my previous travel experiences. Product design and product management has really given me another chance at having a career I know I will thoroughly enjoy.

#MINIMALISM

There's already alot of everything in the word. Our Philosophy lies on the fact that products do not need to be overly designed to pass a message or to be pleasing aesthetically.

Minimalism is key.

#FIVETEENSTYLE

#FIVETEEN STYLE

Minimalism is key in our design process; we believe apparels don't necessarily have to be excessively designed that's why we keep simplicity at the forefront of our minds.

#FIVETEENSTYLE

We believe design should be easy to read and understand and we apply this philosophy to all of our pieces.

The bright blue image of palms in the sky on the back of the tee combined with the crisp, white tee creates a bold contrast that we love!

The simplicity of the logo on the front is countered by the large image on the back that helps give this piece a minimal feel.

This is definitely one of the top favorites from our Palms See Everything collection. With an amazing photo of the signature palms on the back of the tee combined with the name and title of our collection, Palms See Everything, written on the front of the tee, we are really reminded and drawn into the relaxing and inviting setting of the palms.
